

LEP REVIEW

Exhibition of Draft Strategies and Phase 1 Planning Proposal (includes proposed zoning changes in Moorebank)

FACT SHEET

Landowners of properties currently zoned R4 High Density Residential in Moorebank have been sent a letter to advise them about proposed zoning changes in Moorebank. These changes may affect what you can do on your land in the future.

What changes are proposed?

The proposal seeks to rezone some land around the Moorebank Town Centre from R4 High Density Residential to R3 Medium Density Residential.

On land that is rezoned to R3, Residential Flat Buildings (i.e. apartments) will no longer be permissible. Instead, medium density housing (e.g. Townhouses) is encouraged.

The proposed rezoning (along with changes to development standards) will ensure that Residential Flat Buildings are located in appropriate locations and will also ensure that there is appropriate transition between the high, medium and low-density residential areas.

Are there any zoning changes to my land / property?

A map is attached which highlights the land that is proposed to be rezoned.

There are other amendments included in the Planning Proposal. Do these apply to me?

The Planning Proposal includes a large number of amendments that apply to Moorebank and the entire Liverpool Local Government Area. You may be affected by these changes.

How will these changes affect Development Applications currently under assessment?

Council is required to include a savings and transitional clause in its Local Environmental Plan to ensure that proposed amendments do not affect any current Development Applications under assessment by Council or appeal processes.
